

Moore for local charities: Sydney Lord Mayor's Salary Trust nears one million

LOCAL NEWS 23 MAR 11 @ 07:21AM BY STAFF

6

Recommend

Send

13 people recommend this.

Clover Moore hands over a cheque of $20,000 to Deborah Banks, Sally Gibbons and Jo Boney of Lou's Place. Picture: MELVYN KNIPE

Lord Mayor Clover Moore has donated almost $1,000,000 to charity from her Mayoral salary since taking office in 2004 when she vowed not to donate her second salary.

The Mayoral Trust provided $114,590 to local projects last week, bringing the total of grants from Cr Moore's pay packet to more than $953,000.

The recent grants helped to promote literacy among disadvantaged children; helped tackle discrimination against street women; offered support for people with mental health issues in the city's housing estates; provided creative opportunities for disadvantaged women and assisted in the rescue of abandoned animals.

Members of the public may also contribute to the Mayoral Trust.

<http://www.wherelive.com.au>

All times AEST